Pvt. 1st Cl. Martin J. Flanagan
Wagon Company 1, 23rd Engineers, American Expeditionary Forces

Written and Compiled by

Michael E. Byczek, Esq.
Great-Grandson

Martin J. Flanagan was the son of Patrick J. Flanagan and Anna Kane. He was born in Chicago, IL on 11/7/1888 and was baptized at Holy Family Church in the Near West Side neighborhood. The Flanagan family lived in the McKinley neighborhood for most of Martin's life prior to World War I. Martin spent most of his career working as a brick maker. He primarily lived with his mother Anna (Kane) Flanagan until his marriage in 1922, but probably had briefly resided near his employment.

Martin served with the 23rd Engineers (Wagon Company 1) in France during World War I. The 23rd Engineers were known as the road builders of the American Expeditionary Forces (AEF). He was promoted from Private to Private 1st Class at the end of the war while still in France.

He enlisted at the Jackson Barracks near St. Louis, Missouri on 12/7/1917, at the age of 29, and formally joined Wagon Company 1 of the 23rd Engineers on 1/12/1918. Discharge took place at Camp Grant in Rockford, Illinois on 6/20/1919.

Martin J. Flanagan married Marie T. Talbot on 5/22/1922 at Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago (the same church where Marie's parents Edward H. Talbot and Kittie A. Rooney were married in 1880). Marie Talbot was the granddaughter of prominent early Chicago settlers William Rooney and Julia Phelan who date back to 1835. Martin was 33 and Marie was 31 years old. After their marriage, Martin and Marie lived in the Brighton Park and Gage Park neighborhoods before returning to Bridgeport in the late 1920s. They remained in Bridgeport for the remainder of their lives. Their daughter Marie C. Flanagan married Michael S. Byczek at St. Bridget's in Bridgeport in 1950. They are Michael E. Byczek's grandparents.

Martin J. Flanagan passed away on 10/22/1947 while the family lived at 2888 S. Archer. He was buried with his parents in the Patrick and Anna Flanagan family plot at Mt. Olivet Cemetery in Chicago. Marie (Talbot) Flanagan passed away on 2/14/1957 while living with her daughter Marie Byczek at 2520 S. Stark in Bridgeport. She was buried with her daughter Anna, parents, and paternal grandparents in the Thomas and Hannah Talbot family plot at Calvary Cemetery in Evanston, IL.

Michael E. Byczek, great-grandson of Martin J. Flanagan, compiled a comprehensive HTML-based World War I online archive with documents, videos, photographs, and books. The archive was originally compiled in November 2022 to commemorate Veteran's Day and is available at:

<https://michaelbyczek.pro/genealogy/worldwar1/martinflanagan.html>

Martin J. Flanagan's son-in-law Michael S. Byczek served with the 81st Division Infantry (321st Regiment), known as the "Wildcats" during World War II in the Pacific. His grandson Michael M. Byczek is an honorably discharged Naval Air Reservist (Vietnam Era).

From Marie (Flanagan) Byczek's perspective, her father, husband, and eldest son all served in the military.

Martin's mother Anna (Kane) Flanagan used her son's service during World War I as a crucial fact to fix a naturalization mistake that originated from Martin's grandfather James Flanagan in Port Huron, Michigan in the 1860s.

Chronology of Martin Flanagan's Service — Based on Unit Morning Reports

The following locations as a collective show Martin Flanagan's timeline in France. The logbooks are often written with phonetic spelling. Not all towns have been identified on a present-day map.

It appears that Wagon Company 1 stayed within the Meuse and Meurthe-et-Moselle "Departments".

All the known locations are near St. Mihiel and Nancy. The identified towns are in the same general area. It is presumed that the others that have not been found are nearby. Some towns are based on similarity in phonetic spelling and close proximity. The only location outside this area was Aix-les-Bains where Martin Flanagan was on leave. Some pages from the logbooks are unreadable due to LQ scans and faded ink.

Where original logbook entries are unclear or spelled phonetically, conclusions about locations are based on the closest plausible modern place-name within documented unit movements.

Chronology

1/12/1918 - Martin Flanagan assigned to company from Detach 23rd Engineers at Camp Meade. Earlier that same day, company moved from Camp Meade to Camp Laurel

1/20/1918 - Wagon Co #1 consisted of 102 enlisted men and 1 captain. Left station with 1st Batt 23rd Engineers (Companies A, B, and C with Truck #1 and #2). Appears also had a detached Wagon Company #2 with 18 enlisted without officers.

Actual Video Footage from the National Archives

The U.S. National Archives have several digitized videos that show, or at least reference, the 23rd Engineers during World War I in France.

Video 1

1280 - Occupation of Lucey Sector (Lorraine, 8/10/1918 - 9/11/1918)

Scenes 13-15: 23rd Engineers directing the 508th Engineers. Appears to start at 3:05.

Video 2

1327 - The St Mihiel Offensive, 9/10/1918 - 9/25/1918)

Scene 35: 23rd Engineers tearing down building for material to repair roads. Appears to start at 7:39. Probably includes subsequent scenes, which appear continuous.

Video 3

1462 - March into Germany (Nov-Dec 1918)

It appears that this collection includes the scenes from #1280. The video clip itself does not show anything about the 23rd Engineers.

Video 4

1495: Part I, Part II - - Engineer Corps, Road Building (1918-1919)
