Thomas Talbot and Hannah McDonald were married in Taunton, MA on 6/21/1852 at St. Mary's Catholic Church. Thomas was 29 and Hannah was about 25 years old.

Both Thomas and Hannah settled in Taunton with members of their families around 1848 during the Irish Famine. Thomas was joined by his brother William. Hannah lived with her brothers John and James. Both Hannah and her brother John interchanged the surnames McDonald and McDonnell. It is unclear which spelling is more accurate since both variations were used in Taunton, MA and Chicago, IL on different documents. The surname McDonald is used for genealogy purposes.

Thomas Talbot was born in Ballinlonty within the Drom, also known as Drom and Inch, Catholic parish in Co. Tipperary (Ireland). Analysis of records show, on balance of probabilities, that Thomas was the son of John Talbot and Mary Bourke. The family was also associated with the adjacent village of Fishmoyne, both within the same Catholic parish. Thomas was baptized on 4/8/1823. Refer to the "John Talbot and Mary Bourke" documentary for detailed analysis of records that show there was only one Talbot family who lived in the entire parish during that time period.

The identities of Hannah's parents and her place of birth have not been verified. The best conclusion about Hannah's birth is that she was born around 1827. Hannah (McDonald) Talbot also used the name Hanora.

The Talbot family remained in Taunton through the naturalization process, which was finalized in 1857. They briefly lived in the State of Wisconsin and St. Louis (Missouri) prior to settling in Chicago, IL around 1861. Analysis of city directories show a high likelihood that Thomas, perhaps without Hannah and their children, sought opportunities in California before the family moved from Massachusetts to Wisconsin.

Upon arrival in Chicago, the Talbot family briefly lived near St. Patrick's Church in the West Loop neighborhood on Canal and Van Buren. They purchased real estate on 17th and Wentworth in the South Loop neighborhood where the family lived for about 20 years. Thomas Talbot ran a saloon in their two-story building located at 1700 S. Wentworth for about ten years. He began the business shortly before the Great Chicago Fire in 1871 (the area was not destroyed by the fire).

Thomas Talbot and Hannah Talbot had at least four children:

Child	Born	Location	Notes
Edward Henry Talbot	6/30/1854	Taunton, MA	Baptized at St. Mary's. He is also associated with the middle name Howard.
James Talbot	About 1857	Wisconsin	Birth/Baptism not found. Died in Chicago in 1865.
Thomas J. Talbot	About 12/1859	Wisconsin	Birth/Baptism not found
William Thomas Talbot	5/1/1862	Chicago, IL	Baptized at St. Patrick's. Later used the name William G. Talbot.

The 1900 census lists that Hannah Talbot had two deceased and three living children. While this may have been a mistake, there was a three or four year gap between Edward and James when another child may have been born. This child, if true, was not listed in the 1860 St. Louis census.

Their son Edward H. Talbot married Kittie A. Rooney at Holy Name Cathedral in Chicago, IL in 1880. Kittie was the daughter of prominent early settlers of Chicago William and Julia Rooney. Edward and Kittie Talbot are Michael E. Byczek's 2x-great-grandparents.

Thomas is best remembered for his saloon on 17th and Wentworth, but also worked as a moulder, teamster, and contractor.

James Talbot, their son, passed away in 1865 at the age of about seven years old while the family lived on 17th and Wentworth. Thomas Talbot's brother William was living with the family at the saloon when he passed away in 1871. Hannah's brother James traveled with the Talbot family to St. Louis and Chicago. He passed away in Chicago in 1870 and was most likely living at the saloon, since the Talbot family arranged his funeral and burial. All three are buried together in Thomas and Hannah Talbot's first family plot at Calvary Cemetery in Evanston, IL.

Thomas and Hannah Talbot relocated to the Grand Boulevard neighborhood at 4132 S. Wabash in 1887. All three of their surviving sons also lived the building.

Thomas Talbot was a member of the Catholic Order of Foresters. The family were parishioners at St. Elizabeth, which was located on the corner of their block. Earlier, the family had been associated with St. John, which was located about one block away from the saloon on 18th and Clark.

Thomas passed away on 12/26/1892 and Hannah on 1/29/1903. Both were living at 4132 S. Wabash. Their funerals were held at St. Elizabeth. Hannah Talbot purchased a new family plot at Calvary after Thomas died and sold the remaining graves in their first plot. Edward and Kittie Talbot's son Edgar was also buried in that first plot.

Buried together at the second Talbot family plot at Calvary with Thomas and Hannah are their (1) son Edward; (2) daughter-in-law Kittie A. Talbot, Edward's first wife; (3) granddaughter Marie Flanagan, daughter of Edward and Kittie Talbot; (4) great-granddaughter Anna Flanagan, Edward and Kittie's granddaughter; (5) son Thomas and his wife Bridget; (6) Edward's second wife Delia Talbot, who was the niece of Thomas Talbot, and her second husband John Hudson; and (7) Delia's brother Thomas, who was Thomas Talbot's nephew.

Thomas and Hannah Talbot's three sons sold the family home at 4132 S. Wabash after their mother's death in 1903. The family had owned the building for about 16 years.

Thomas Talbot and Ellen McDonnell

It is presumed that Ellen was a mistake for Hannah/Hanora

The witnesses were Martin Hoy and Ann Harrington.

However, it is unknown why there is another set of names written above (Daniel Cosgrove and Ann Cromyn).

It would appear linked as record #3, unless somebody squeezed two marriages into the same record, or perhaps both took place on the same day.

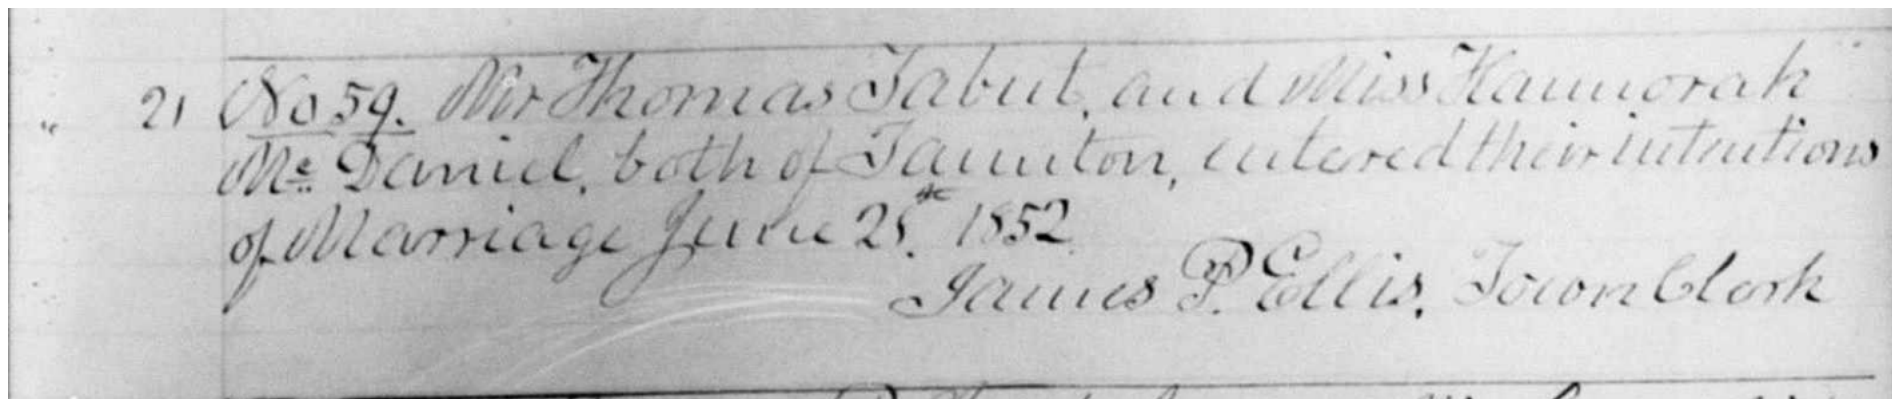

There was a marriage in Taunton on June 21, 1852 at St. Mary Church (shown above). This marriage was written three different ways with three different spellings. It is presumed that this is the correct Thomas and Hannah. There seems to be two layers of mistakes. First, the civil records incorrectly list Hannah as McDaniel. Second, the church incorrectly listed her as Ellen (unless the names are religiously interchangeable).

Marriage Intention: Thomas Tabut and Hannorah McDaniel

Marriage (Civil): Thomas Tabut and Hannah McDaniel

Church Record: Thomas Talbot and Ellen McDonnell

St. Mary's is the same church where their son Edward was baptized in 1854. There appears to only be one Thomas Talbot in Taunton, even though there are about five total Talbot families. Hannah used both names Hannah and Hanora in Chicago. It is presumed that McDaniel was a spelling error (very similar, especially if the original handwriting was hard to read). Since the name Talbot was misspelled in the civil records (Tabut), it is equally plausible that Hannah's name was also misspelled (McDaniel versus McDonnell).

Mc Daniel, both of Taunton, entered their intentions of Marriage June 21st 1852.

Online sources indicate that the original church was located across the street from the present-day building and that it may have been built in 1856. There appears to be a church located across the street marked by the red arrow.

Thomas Talbot Probate

Thomas Talbot wrote a Will and named his eldest son Edward H. Talbot as his sole beneficiary. Edward would receive all of the Talbot family personal belongings after Hannah passed away. Thomas expressly requested that his daughter-in-law Kittie Talbot hold the property for their children should Edward pass away prior to his Hannah. The other two sons, Thomas and William, would receive some money after Hannah's death and the house at 4132 S. Wabash was sold. Edward and Kittie's son Frank was the only family member to receive any property at the time of Thomas's death, which was a life insurance policy from St. John Church located at 18th and Clark. It is presumed that Thomas purchased the life insurance policy while they were living at 17th and Wentworth.

The Will shown below was a copy entered into a master ledger book maintained by the Cook County court.

Thomas Talbot stated that he was going blind at the time he signed the Will in 1890.

Conclusions

Hannah

Age is consistently 1827-1830.

The range 1827-1828 appears the most (four times).

The year 1830 appears twice.

Thomas

The overall range is 1824-1830.

1824-1826 appears to be the best range as it appears five times.

The range 1827-1830 appears twice.

Early May 1826 appears twice (naturalization papers and death certificate). However, somebody may have looked at the naturalization papers when he died for his age.

May 1 and May 10 could be a mistake.

Naturalization

Thomas Talbot stated that he arrived in New York about 8/26/1848, which was the height of the Irish Potato Famine that lasted from 1845-1848. He filed the first papers in 1854 and finalized his naturalization in 1857, both while living in Taunton. It is presumed that Thomas and Hannah were married in Taunton in 1852. Neither have been verified in the 1850 census. The 1888 Chicago voter registration of Thomas Talbot at 4132 Wabash listed that he became a citizen in 1857 while living in Taunton.

It is unknown where either Thomas or Hannah were living between their arrival and marriage in Taunton. Hannah also listed 1848 as her year of arrival in the 1900 census. When the naturalization documents were finalized in 1857, Thomas stated he had lived in Taunton for six years, which would be about 1851.

Second Thomas and Hannah Talbot Family Plot
 Calvary Cemetery (Evanston, IL)
 Purchased after Thomas Talbot passed away.
 The unused graves in the first family plot was sold at about the same time.

There were eleven burials in six graves. Not all names were written on the cemetery burial map. Kittie was the second death. Only Thomas was buried in the six graves at the time. If Edward had his choice where to bury Kittie, it seems logical to have done so in sequence. If Hannah is buried to the south of Thomas, that would suggest Kittie was buried to the north of Thomas. Marie (Talbot) Flanagan is buried to the north of Thomas, suggesting Marie may have been buried with her mother in the same grave. The first six burials were Edward and Kittie, Edward's parents Thomas and Hannah, and Edward's brother Thomas with his wife Bridget. It is possible that these six burials reflect the six individual graves. Subsequent burials took place on top of existing graves with the baby Anna Flanagan with Thomas and Hannah in the center.

FORM NO. 107 17M 1-49 R

The first Thomas and Hannah Talbot Family Plot (Calvary Cemetery - Evanston, IL)

Detailed records do not exist prior to the transfer from Hannah Talbot to Ellen Doyle
 Thomas and Hannah Talbot were responsible for the first four burials in these graves

- 1865 - Their son James Talbot
- 1870 - James McDonnell, brother of Hannah (presumed)
- 1871 - William Talbot, confirmed brother of Thomas Talbot
- 1888 - Their grandson Edgar Talbot (son of Edward H. Talbot and Kittie A. Rooney)

Hannah Talbot sold the remaining unused graves to Ellen Doyle when she purchased a larger family plot after Thomas Talbot died in 1892. It is unknown how eight individuals were buried in only three graves, or whether the three graves reference those unused and sold by Hannah Talbot.

Hannah (McDonald/McDonnell) Talbot's Maiden Name

Hannah's maiden name only appears on a few documents:

1852 Presumptive Marriage: McDaniel (2) and McDonnell (1)

1855 MA Census in Taunton: John and James McDonald are living with the Talbot family [presume two of Hannah's brothers]

1860 Census (St. Louis) James McDonald is living with the Talbot family [presume Hannah's brother]

1862 son William's baptism at St. Patrick: McDonnell

1870 Burial of Hannah's brother James in Chicago: McDonnell

1900 son Edward and Delia's Marriage: McDonald

1911 son Thomas's Death Certificate: McDonaldson

Analysis

Both Hannah and her brother James interchanged the spelling of McDonald and McDonnell.

Hannah's son Edward only referred to his mother's maiden name once (McDonald). The widow of Hannah's son Thomas, also did so only once (McDonaldson).

The frequency of surnames across all known documents are:

4: McDonald/McDonaldson:

3: McDonnell

2: McDaniel

Conclusion

McDonald is the best candidate for Hannah Talbot's maiden name based on frequency and the usage of that name by her children. However, both surnames are equally likely to be accurate. For instance, her maiden name only appears twice in church records. The surname McDonnell was used both times, along with McDaniel.

Children of Thomas Talbot and Hannah McDonald

It is unknown where in Wisconsin their sons James and Thomas were born or the church where they were baptized.

It is also unknown if there was a fifth child, and if so, where that child was born and died.

ONE JUROR ACCEPTED.

PRENDERGAST'S TRIAL FOR KILLING MAYOR HARRISON ON.

Examination of Talesmen Consumes the Day and Results in the Acceptance of Charles W. Hamilton by Both Sides—State's-Attorney Kern Announces That the State Will Ask for a Death Sentence—The Prisoner Attempts to Advise Attorneys and Is Repressed.

Patrick Eugene Prendergast, the assassin of Carter H. Harrison, was placed on trial yesterday before Judge Brentano in the North Side Criminal Court. There were four lawyers there to act as counsel for the accused, but the real defense seemed to lie in the strange and shifting action of the prisoner. Sitting near the jury-box he clasped and unclasped his hands, wiping the perspiration from his long fingers and from his brow with a black silk handkerchief, and fumbling with his little soft hat.

when Mr. Kern used a peremptory challenge.

A long time was consumed in the examination of William G. Talbot of No. 4132 Wabash avenue, who said that he had an opinion which would require a lot of evidence to change. He thought that it might give way before evidence, and each lawyer in the case took a hand in arguing the point whether such a man was eligible for service as a juror. He was also excused.

The clerk announced at this point that the

William Talbot was a prospective juror for the murder case of Mayor Carter Harrison

The wedding of Miss Agnes Leonard and William G. Talbot will take place at St. Bernard's church, 66th street and Stewart avenue, at 9 o'clock to-day, the Rev. P. B. Murray officiating.

1855 Massachusetts State Census: Thomas and Hannah Talbot living in Taunton. Edward is one year old. Thomas is working as Moulder.

They are listed as a separate building based on order of visit.

John and James McDonald are living with the Talbot family, presumedly Hannah's brothers.

Note: There is an Edward McDonald living in a large boarding house type building right next door (27 years old).

1860: St. Louis, Missouri (Eighth Ward) - Thomas working as a Porter.

Hannah listed as Hanora. There is a James McDonald living with them, presumed to be Hannah's brother.

Thomas and Hannah have two more children, James and Thomas, born in Wisconsin.

1865 Illinois State Census: Not found

1870: Chicago, IL - Address is not listed (Sixth Ward), but this has to be 17th and Wentworth

Thomas is a saloon keeper. Edward (16) is "at home" while Thomas and William are attending school.

They have a tenant in the building (Peter Forteir, working as a Cooper).

Thomas (who should own the building) listed as having $3,000 worth of real estate and $500 worth of personal property.

Talbot is spelled Talbott and Hannah listed as Ahnora (phonetic for Hanora).

1880: 1700 Wentworth - Talbot family are the only residents of the building.

Thomas working as Teamster. Edward a bookkeeper. Thomas Jr a blacksmith. William a bookkeeper.

Taunton, MA

It is unknown when Thomas Talbot and Hannah McDonald first arrived in Taunton and whether one or both were living elsewhere immediately after settling in the United States from Ireland. Thomas stated that he arrived in Taunton about 1851.

Only select city directories are available online for Taunton during these years. These directory listings do not provide enough information about the addresses for a full analysis.

It is unknown whether either were living in 1850, or whether Hannah's three presumed brothers were already in Taunton.

1855 Taunton City Directory

Thomas was a moulder when he first arrived in Chicago and was listed as a moulder on Edward's birth record in 1854.
 William Talbot, who is a moulder, lived on the same street (but not necessarily the same house) - Presumed to be his brother.
 Thomas filed for citizenship the year before (declaration in 1854) and it was also the year that Edward was born.
 There is a John and Edward McDonald also living on Market St.
 In 1855 (census) John and James were living with the Talbot family and Edward McDonald appears to have been living next door.

1857 Taunton City Directory

It would appear that there is only one Thomas Talbot in Taunton.

The directory refers to California.

This is the year that Thomas was naturalized and the family was already in Wisconsin in 1858.

It's possible that Thomas went to California looking for opportunities while Hannah stayed in Taunton.

Also note that William Talbot is still a molder and they both have very coincidental addresses: 7 Winthrop for Thomas and 7 Porter for William.

Hard to make conclusions about the McDonald family because James joined the Talbot family in St. Louis by 1860.

TALBOT ELIJAH W. moulder, h. Weir, opp. Forest
Talbot Lemuel T. sup't Bay State Screw Co. house Plain,

1859 Taunton City Directory

Thomas Talbot is already in Wisconsin and James McDonald was with them in St. Louis in 1860.
Both Thomas and William Talbot have vanished from the directory, as does James McDonald.
There were three John McDonald entries in the past, now only two.

7 Winthrop appears to be the same location (current) compared to older maps, but cannot confirm from the 1850's.

Unknown when this building was built or whether the addressing system was the same in the 1850's. The building looks like the 1875 Birds-Eye Map, but a similar building could have been built in the same place.

St. Louis, MO

The only reference to the Talbot family in St. Louis was the 1860 census without an address. The census did list the Ward number. Analysis of old maps reveal the approximate boundaries of that ward on present-day maps.

Chicago Residence Timeline

1861	Best consensus (above analysis) of when the Talbot family arrived in Chicago.
May 1862	William baptized at St. Patrick's Church
1863-64	231 S. Canal - moulder
1864-65	SE Corner 17th and LaSalle - moulder [See sections below and there may not have been houses on the SE Corner]
1865	"ES Wentworth near 17th" - moulder ["near 17th" implies that the building was not on the corner. Could be N or S of 17th. Presume ES means east side]
1867-68	33 Wentworth - moulder [33 is presumed to be the SE corner of 17th and Wentworth]
1869	33 Wentworth - moulder
1870	32 Wentworth - saloon [census shows "saloon keeper" without an address]
1871-72	32 Wentworth - saloon
1872	SW corner 17th and Wentworth - saloon
1873	32 Wentworth - saloon
1874-75	32 Wentworth - saloon
1875-76	32 Wentworth - saloon
1876-77	900 Wentworth - saloon [same building with a brief change in addressing system]
1877-78	900 Wentworth - saloon
1879	900 Wentworth - teamster
1880	1700 Wentworth - teaming [census shows "teamster"] [address was changed to reflect proximity to 17th Street]
1883	1700 Wentworth - Unconfirmed whether the father or son is listed as a "contractor"
1885-87	1700 Wentworth - Thomas was retired, or otherwise not listed with an occupation
1888-1903	4132 Wabash [Thomas and Hannah both died at this address - Thomas in 1892 and Hannah in 1903]

Observations

1. It is unknown where they were living before 1863-64, even though they may have been in Chicago for two years at that point.
2. They lived at 17th and Wentworth (including LaSalle) for about 23 years - most of their life in Chicago.
3. They lived at 4132 Wabash for about 15 years (through Hannah's death in 1903).
4. Thomas ran the saloon at 17th and Wentworth for about 8 years.

Canal and Van Buren
West Loop - Chicago, IL

The former address of 231 S. Canal appears to have been the corner, or near the corner, of Canal and Van Buren. This is the only known address for the Talbot family during the first three or four years that they lived in Chicago prior to settling at 17th and Wentworth.

1857 Bird's-Eye view showing Canal and Van Buren

231 Canal (according to more recent addressing scheme) would have been the corner behind the front dome)

The street right behind building is labeled Canal. It is not possible to determine whether buildings existed at this time or if the address estimate is accurate.

1868 Bird's-Eye Map
Compare this map to the 1857 map.
The bridge in center of image should be Van Buren and the first street west of the River is Canal.

1886 Robinson Insurance Map

It is unknown whether the 1886 map may show the street as it existed prior to the 1871 fire (addressing system).

17th and Wentworth
South Loop - Chicago, IL

The Talbot saloon was located at 1700 S. Wentworth, which was the SW corner of 17th and Wentworth and known at the time as 32 Wentworth. Thomas Talbot purchased the property in 1865 while the family was living across the street on the SE corner of 17th and Wentworth, which was 33 Wentworth at the time. Over the years, the property was also known as 900 S. Wentworth before the addressing system was unified as 1700 S. Wentworth.

Records suggest that the Talbot family may have remained at 33 Wentworth for a few years after purchasing 32 Wentworth. They first appear at the 32 Wentworth residence in the 1870 Chicago directory when Thomas Talbot opened his saloon. The reason is unclear, but the family may have been living and/or working in both buildings during these initial years.

Prior to their residence on the SE corner of 17th and Wentworth, the family lived less than one block away near 17th and LaSalle.

Thomas Talbot sold 1700 S. Wentworth in 1887.

1857 Bird's-Eye Map of Chicago
The Talbot family home at 1700 Wentworth is shown in this map

It is the corner building on New St between New and Old Streets (four buildings in a row) in the center of the image
The building had a side extension (looks like one and one-half width total buildings)
Thomas Talbot purchased the property a few years after the date of this map.

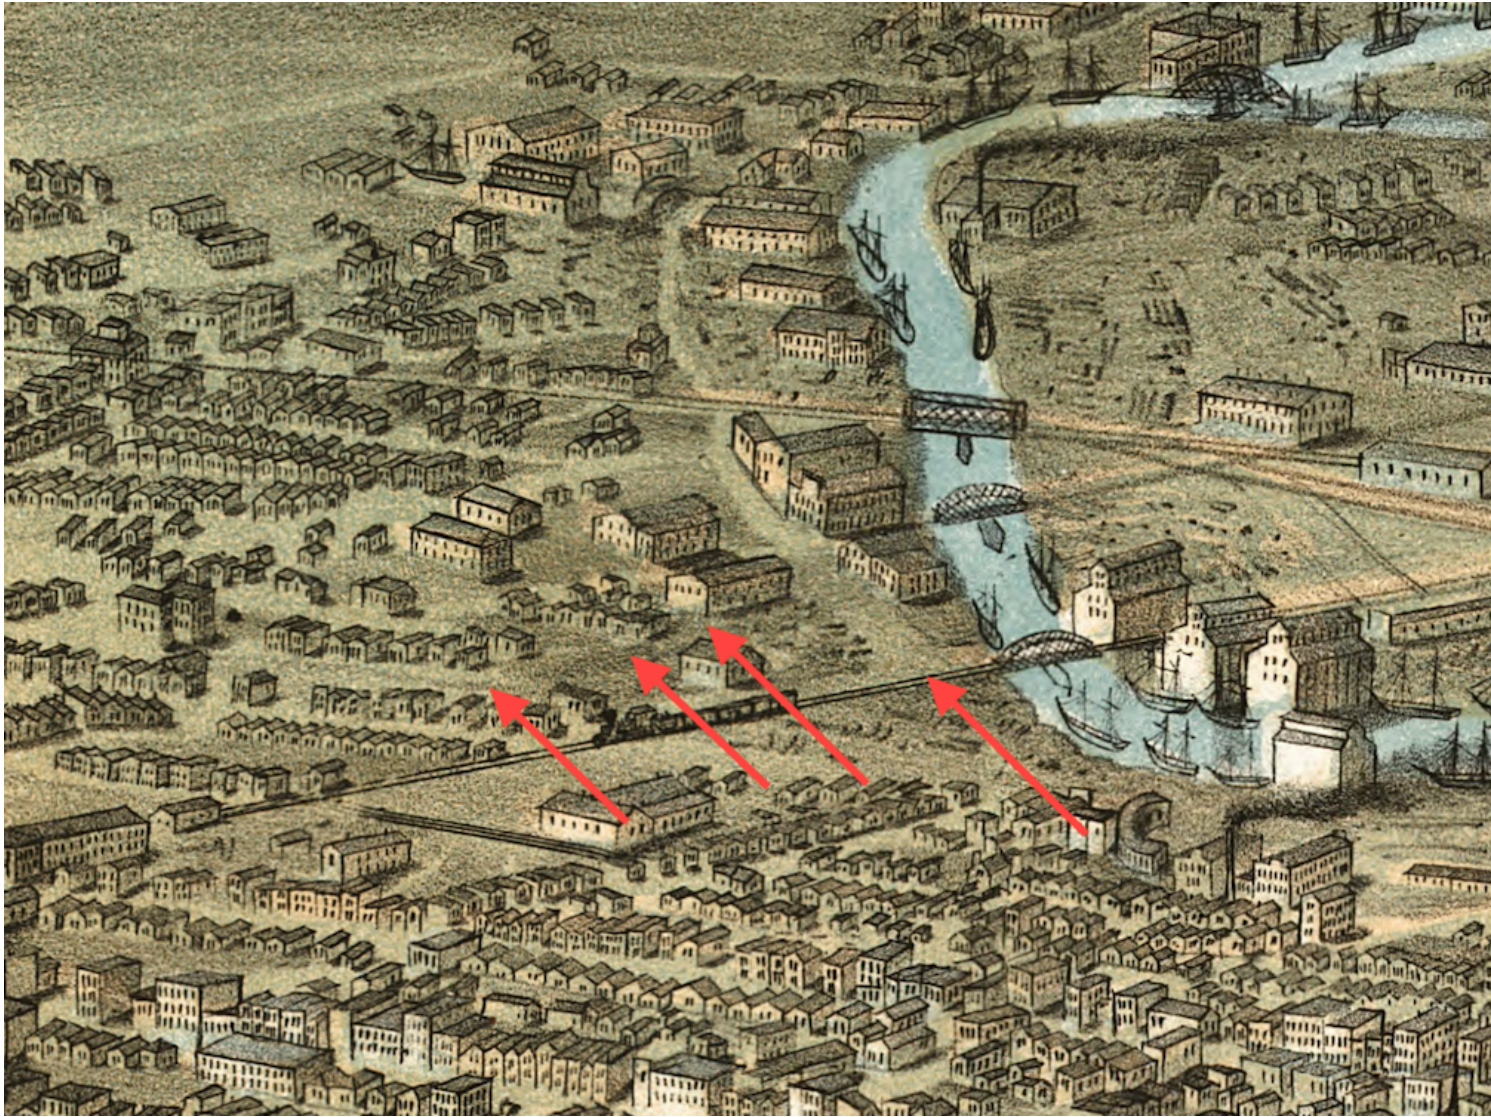

The middle arrow is 17th and Wentworth, according to this map. In this view, there was a two-story building where the saloon was located (this might be the saloon).
The top-right arrow marks the point of intersection between Grove and 16th relative to Wentworth
The lower arrow is LaSalle St.

1868 Bird's-Eye Map

The Talbots are living on 17th and Wentworth (east side of the street).
Thomas already owned the saloon location, but they did not live there until 1870.

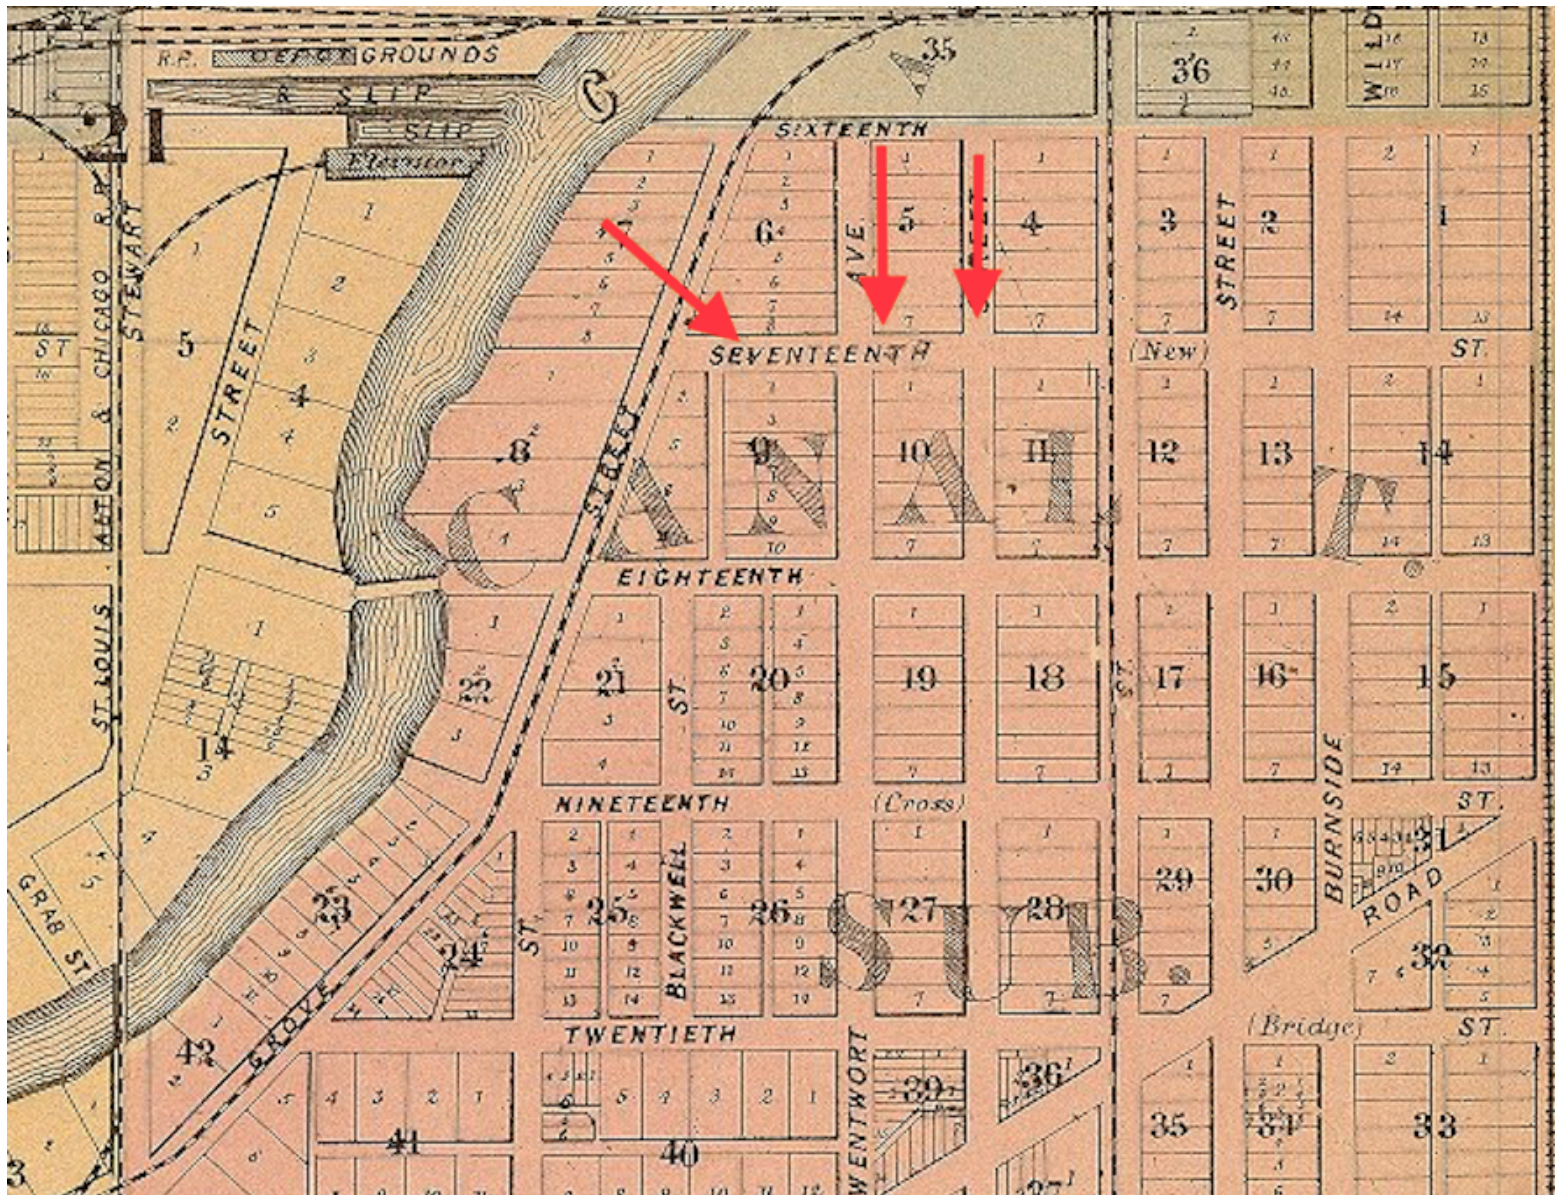

The right most arrow represents the intersection of Grove and 16th, which is essentially Wentworth.

According to this approximation, there is a large building on 17th, marked by the 2nd arrow from the right.

The left most arrow should be Clark St (note the circular building at base of right-most arrow).

2nd arrow from left would therefore be LaSalle. This is very difficult to determine whether this collection of houses is Clark or LaSalle (that would determine Wentworth)

This might explain the subdivision. If that large building was torn down, the land could have been subdivided and sold.

1863 Block Map showing legal descriptions of real estate
 The Right arrow shows LaSalle street (they lived on SE corner of 17th). The middle arrow shows the SE corner of 17th and Wentworth.

The Talbot saloon was approximately in the area of the far light pole

The near light pole on the right is approximately where the Talbot saloon would have been (looking south)
The SE corner of 17th and Wentworth was directly across the street with 17th and LaSalle further to the left on what would have been a street

It is unclear, but unlikely, that Thomas Talbot's son Edward opened a saloon. There were multiple Edward Talbot individuals in Chicago at the time.

1877 Chicago Directory - Business

This was the final year that the Thomas Talbot saloon was listed in the business section of the Chicago Directory

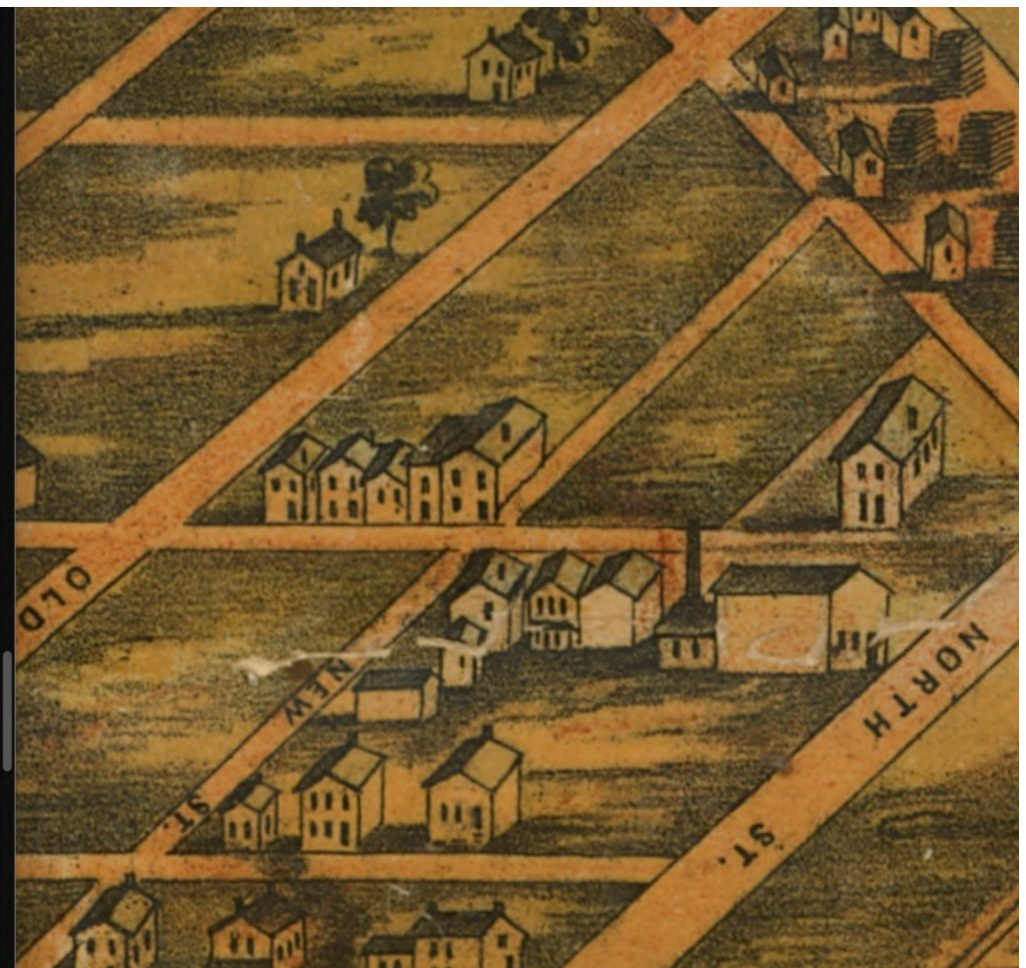

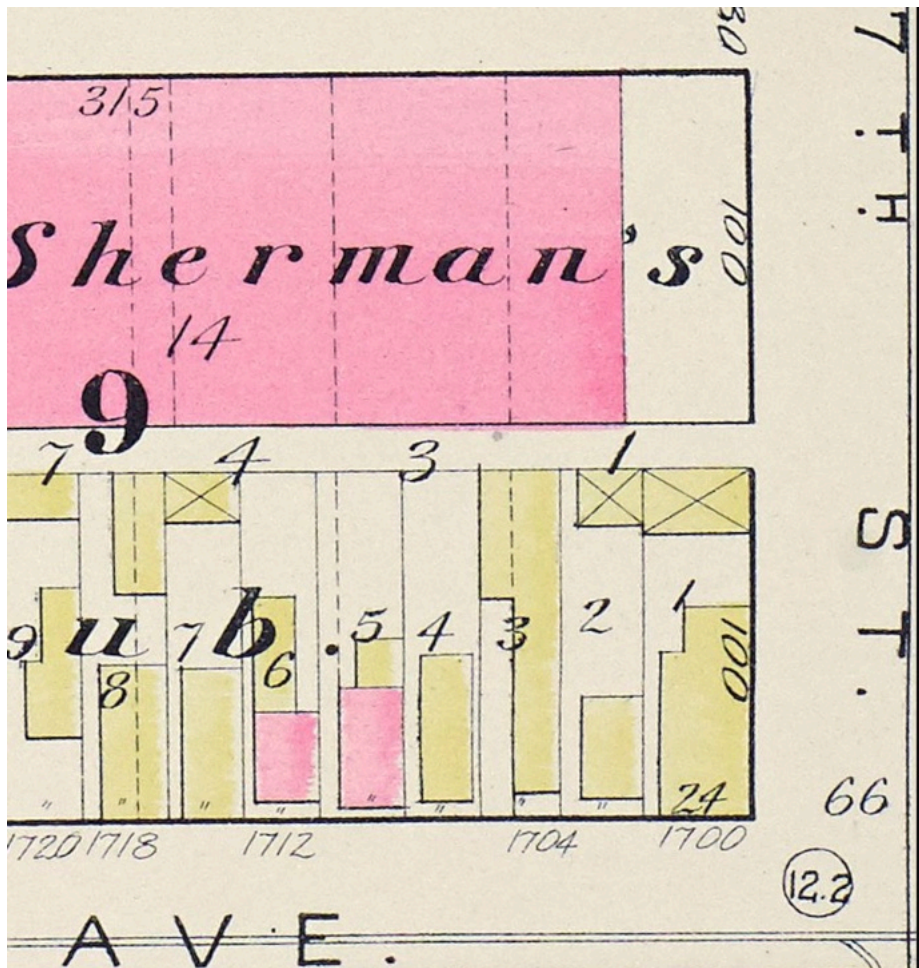

There are a few possible scenarios to explain why Thomas Talbot purchased 32 Wentworth in 1865, but did not appear to permanently live in the building until 1870:

1. 1700 Wentworth may have originally been 33 Wentworth and was renumbered to 32 Wentworth. However, it seems too coincidental that Thomas was a moulder at 33 Wentworth, but a saloonkeeper at 32 Wentworth. This would suggest these two addresses represent two different events.
2. Thomas Talbot was trying to maximize profits by renting out the entire building while living/renting across the street.
3. The building at 1700 Wentworth was un-inhabitable, and it took Thomas 4-5 years to fix the property.
4. The property was empty land, and Thomas built the building. More information is needed about real estate valuation in the area. He bought the property for $1,000 in 1865 and sold it for $7,300 in 1887 (22 years later).
5. Thomas Talbot owned 33 Wentworth (unknown) and purchased 32 Wentworth as an investment. Five years later, he took the building over to open a saloon.

The 1886 Robinson insurance map indicates that the left side of the building (south) was an irregular shape. The building in the 1857 Bird's-Eye map appears to match this irregular shape.

Therefore, the 1857 Bird's-Eye Map and 1886 Robinson Map appears to reflect a similar irregular building. This would suggest either (1) it's the same building, or (2) the original building was rebuilt with the same irregular shape.

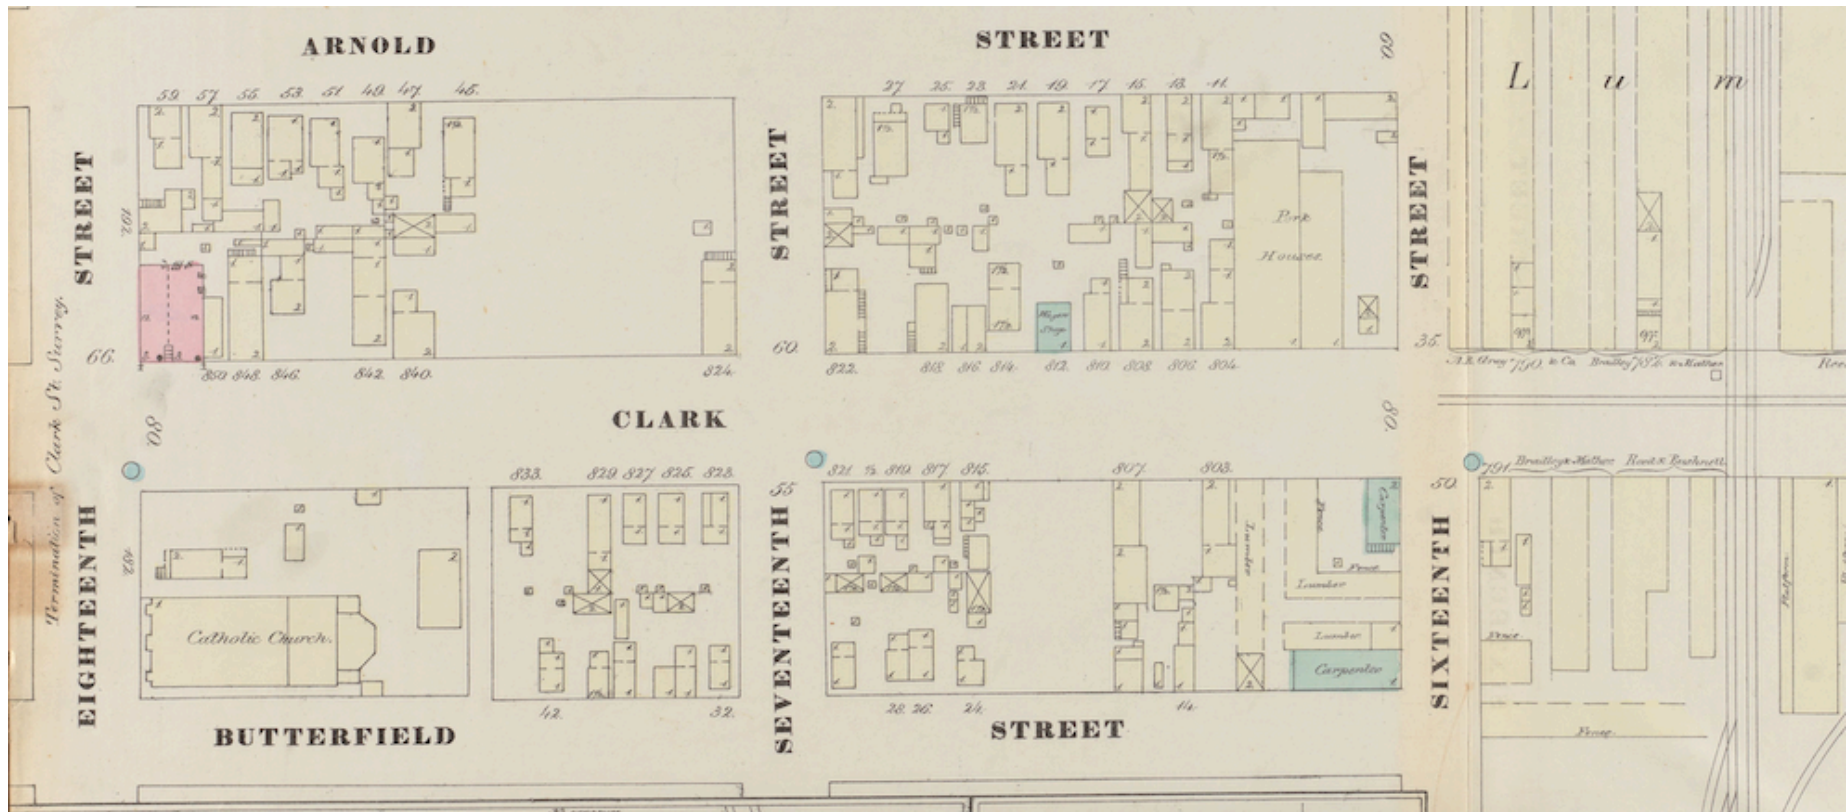

The side-by-side image shows that the buildings on the 1857 Bird's-Eye are not all the same compared to the 1886 Robinson, especially two buildings south. Therefore, there was rebuilding amongst these buildings to some degree between 1857 and 1886, or the Bird's-Eye map is not entirely drawn with accuracy or scale.

Side-by-side views of the 1886 Robinson Insurance and the 1857 Bird's-Eye Map

The most important feature for analysis and comparison is the irregular shape of the building

The 1857 Bird's-Eye View of the corner building matches the 1886 insurance drawing of the same location.

Talbot's were living at SE Corner of 17th and LaSalle

According to this map, there wasn't a building on the SE Corner. There was one on the NE Corner.

Thomas Talbot purchased 4132 S. Wabash three months after selling 1700 S. Wentworth. It's unclear where the family was living, or whether they may have already occupied the house on Wabash.

It is also unknown when the house was built, or whether Thomas Talbot purchased vacant land.

It looks like 4132 S. Wabash has been torn down.
It's possible that the original St. Elizabeth's Church still exists, or a similarly sized building is on the same property
It's difficult to determine whether or not the new church still exists.

1864-65

There are two different Directory publishers available online for this year. Both have a Thomas, who is a moulder with 17th and LaSalle. However, there is an additional Thomas (without an address) working at the ICRR car works. It's unknown whether this is the same Thomas, or two different people. From this point, there is another Thomas in Chicago.

1865-66

All Talbot entries listed for context. There are now two different Thomas entries. The correct Thomas is still a moulder. It is presumed that the manner in which the address is written suggests that they were living on the east side of Wentworth near 17th. This was across the street from the saloon location. This could mean on either side of 17th (high 1600's or low 1700's). It suggests that the helper from the prior year is the Thomas who is now shown to be a laborer. One version of 1865-6 is online while a different version (probably different publisher for the same year) was obtained from microfilm at the Chicago Public Library (2nd column). This second version creates the same confusion about which Thomas is correct. The listing for the Talbut spelling suggests that the correct Thomas was a railroad moulder at ICRR.

1866

All Talbot entries listed for context. There is only one Thomas, a moulder, who works at the IC Car Works without an address. This complicates the prior two years because the 1864-65 edition lists two Thomas entries, with one being a generic helper at the ICRR Car Works. Then, 1865 lists two different Thomas entries at two different address with one being a moulder and the other a laborer. Now there is only one Thomas again, who is a moulder. It is unknown whether this (or the 1864-65) entry is the correct Thomas. A microfilm version (2nd column) was obtained for the year span 1866-67. In this second version, it would suggest (again) that the correct Thomas is the moulder at the IC Car Works.

1867-68

There is only one Thomas. The address 33 Wentworth is the southeast corner of 17th and Wentworth compared to the saloon location being the southwest corner. An earlier entry made reference to the east side. A microfilm version was obtained that refers to the year 1867 (2nd column).

Edward was 18 years old, but was not listed. The prominent E. H. Talbot (Elisha H. Talbot) along with other Edward entries show that it's a common name. Thomas is still operating the saloon. The Directory now explicitly lists the southwest corner of 17th and Wentworth. A microfilm version was obtained for 1872-73 (2nd column). There is only one entry for Thomas and nothing for Edward (again, unlikely that he was a butcher). Edward's brother Thomas was 19 or 20 years old and hasn't been listed yet. It's possible that the horseshoer is actually Thomas's son, not the father.

However, there is another Edward associated with railroads living on 47th and Wabash whereas just a few years later, the correct Edward is working for the railroads living at 41st and Wabash. This is the first year with confirmation that Edward's brother is listed alongside their father. It would suggest that the father is a teamster compared to the son (junior) being a blacksmith. The son is 20 years old. It's unclear whether the horseshoer in the previous year was the father or son. Since the son is a blacksmith, it's plausible he had previously been a horseshoer. It also the first year that Edward's brother William is listed. He is a bookkeeper at 83 Archer (old addressing system). William is 17 years old.

The Talbot family is being listed as both 1700 and 900 Wentworth (which is the same house). This is the year that Edward and Kittie were married. Edward is a clerk at the M.S.R.R. His brother William is a clerk at 2122 Archer. According to the 1880 census, Thomas (father) was a teamster while Thomas (son) was a blacksmith. It is unclear if horseshoer and blacksmith are meant to mean the same person listed twice.

It is presumed that Thomas (the father) is the contractor while the son, now going with a middle initial, is the blacksmith. A clue is that the contractor is listed as “house” while the blacksmith is a “boarder”, suggesting one owns the house. There is an entry for Thomas Talbot at 201 16th, which was between State and Dearborn on 16th while the Talbot saloon was at Wentworth and 17th. This Thomas appears at this address for a few years, and then another Thomas appears at 18th and Wabash.

Thomas Talbot and all three sons are living at 4132 Wabash (Hype Park Precinct 2)
 Thomas bought the house in September 1887. He and sons Thomas & William list they have lived in the precinct for 1 year.

Edward lists 6 months in the precinct. This corresponds to Edgar's death on 18th Street in February 1888.

William lists that he was born in IL in 1862, which is correct.

Thomas (father) and Edward both list 27 years in IL (1861) while Thomas (son) lists 25 years.

Thomas and Edward may simply had voted/registered together and gave the same answer.

Village of Hyde Park, Northern District of Illinois.

 Thomas ballot number is 595. Edward 596. Thomas (son) 613. William 350.

The 1890 voter roll appears to have been based on the 1888 registration.

Therefore, the years of residence is the same because it was lifted from two years earlier, versus being updated.

Edward is listed twice with the second time appearing with the middle initial N (refer to Chicago Directories for uncertainties about the middle initial)

However, the following page shows that he voted with the same ballot number instead of voting twice.

Thomas is listed as having been naturalized in Boston, which shouldn't if they lifted the same information from the 1888 voter roll. It's possible that this was a transcription error by the person who copied the 1888 record for the 1890 election. Edward is ballot 248 (listed twice). His brother Thomas was ballot 89. Thomas (father) and William did not vote.

Only Edward and William are listed. Thomas (father) died in December 1892, so he may not have voted.

Edward lists that he lived in the precinct for 4 years (correct) and Illinois for 31 years (1861).

The year 1861 matches what he and his father listed for the 1888 voter registration.

William lists 30 years (which is correct because he was born in 1862).

Possible Origins of Hannah (McDonald/McDonnell) Talbot

John and James McDonald lived with the Talbot family in Taunton, MA for the 1855 Massachusetts census. James McDonald traveled with the Talbot family to St. Louis, MO in 1860 and Chicago, IL where he passed away in 1870. The two most likely scenarios for why John McDonald was not living with the Talbot family in St. Louis or Chicago is that he died or was married in Taunton prior to 1857-1858.

A marriage took place in Taunton, MA in 1858 between John McDonald and Margaret Henderson. John McDonald's parents were Edward and Mary McDonald. Since Hannah (McDonald/McDonnell) Talbot named her eldest son Edward, this marriage record is a strong possibility for her brother John.

There were multiple John McDonald names in Taunton at the same time. A naturalization petition was filed in 1870 by one of the John McDonald individuals. He was born in Co. Tipperary (Ireland) in 1822, arrived in the U.S. in 1850, and lived in Taunton since 1856. This is a possible match for Hannah Talbot's brother.

However, it is not possible to determine, at present, whether this is the same John McDonald who was married in 1858. Nor is it possible to determine whether either is Hannah's brother.
